DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 10 and 19 are pending in the instant application.

Response to Amendment

2. The amendments to the claims filed on August 27, 2008 have been fully considered. All outstanding grounds of rejection have been overcome and are thus hereby withdrawn: claim objections (Sections 7 and 8), 35 USC 112 1st paragraph rejection (Section 9), 35 USC 112 2nd paragraph (Section 10), 35 USC 103 (Section 11).

Note: Section numbers refer to those from the office action dated June 2, 2008.

3. Pursuant MPEP 803.02, the search and examination was extended. Prior art was found that makes obvious the non-elected species of 5-(1H-benzimidazol-1-yl)-3-[(phenylmethyl)oxy]-2-thiophenecarbonitrile. Therefore, the Markush claims were rejected and non-elected species maintained withdrawn from further consideration.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 10 and 19 objected to for containing non-elected subject matter. The non-elected subject matter consists of compounds that are not the elected species of Example 11. Applicant will be entitled to rejoinder and examination of non-elected species upon allowability of the generic claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
5. Claims 10 and 19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Andrews et al. (WO 2004/014899).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

Determination of the scope and contents of prior art.

The reference teaches the following compounds as having the same utility as instantly claimed:

The reference further teaches the following preferred embodiment:

(Example 23 pg. 103).

Ascertaining the differences between prior art and instant claims.

The following modification to the prior art compound (ie. preferred embodiment above) results in the instant non-elected species: replace hydrogen for methyl at the 2 position of the phenyl ring. Thus, the prior art compound is the next lower homolog of the instant non-elected species.

Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art – Prima Facie Case of Obviousness.

To those skilled in chemical art, one homologue is not an advance over an adjacent member of a homologous series. The reason for this is that one of ordinary skill, knowing the properties of one member of series, would know what properties to expect in adjacent members. In re Henze, 85 USPQ 261 (1950). In re Wood, 199 U.S.P.Q. 137 (C.C.P.A. 1978) and In re Lohr, 137 U.S.P.Q. 548, 549 (C.C.P.A. 1963).

One of ordinary skill would be motivated, from the prior art disclosure – ie. generic teaching and the preferred embodiment - to make the modification required to arrive at the instant invention with reasonable expectation of success for obtaining an additional compound for the same utility. The motivation would be to make an additional anticonvulsant materials.

Thus, the instant claims are prima facie obvious over the teaching of the prior art.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
